DESCRIPTION

The FELIX lamp collection - a noble variety of industrialism

The new, unique collection of FELIX lamps by the Polish brand MiLAGRO is a real treat for lovers of eclectic spaces and original accessories in the interior. This family includes 5 lighting models - a wall lamp, a ceiling lamp, a single and double pendant lamp and a desk lamp - in three different color variants. You can choose from classic white, noble navy blue and extremely fashionable bottle green, always with stylish golden accents.

Lamps from the FELIX collection are designed for people who appreciate designer accessories and are not afraid of playing with convention. Due to the characteristic lampshades, all models visually refer to industrial-style lighting, but the elegant colors and gilding break this strict image, adding subtlety and feminine charm to the lamps. Such lighting can be installed with equal success in a loft-style apartment, accompanied by raw concrete and red brick, as well as in a romantic bedroom or living room, decorated in the spirit of glamor. Lamps in bottle green color will also fit perfectly into the atmosphere of colonial spaces and referring to the "urban jungle" trend.

Lamps from the FELIX family - quality at the highest level

The FELIX lamp family is an extremely stylish proposition that allows you to create a coherent lighting system throughout the room. Its great advantage, however, is not only complementarity and high aesthetics, but also functionality and quality of workmanship. All lamp shades and lamp bases are made of very durable metal, thanks to which they will survive in perfect condition for many years and will please the eyes of the household until they want to change the interior of the room.

MiLAGRO lamps in this series are adapted to E27 light sources.
